We have received the following information from the Archbishop about Masses over the period of the Lockdown until the review by the Senedd on Jan 18th .

- Social distancing at 2m is practiced rather than 1m+
- Christmas bubbles may attend Christmas Day services and sit together. However, people from different households within Christmas bubbles should stay socially distant from each other
- Services begin promptly to avoid congregations mingling outside their households or extended households
- Services are kept as short as possible
- Congregational singing indoors is NOT permitted
- Churches should be kept well ventilated, particularly where live singing and playing wind-blown instruments takes place
- Congregations are encouraged to disperse quickly after services, again to discourage mixing outside households or extended households

It is at the discretion of the parish priest as to whether individual churches are open for communal worship,
